Being true to herself, Pamela Wright is still hard at play!

Sure, instead of digging through her grandmother's cedar chest for her own family's heirlooms, Houstonians now visit her with heirlooms for sale or loan at Wright Pawn and Jewelry. Of course, she no longer uses crayons, pipe cleaners and string to create jewelry for her friends; she now uploads her designs of unique pieces to computers for production. Plus, in place of her tiny, white musical jewelry box with its pop-up twirling ballerina, Pamela owns a 4,000-square-foot pawn shop and jewelry store adorned with sparkling diamond engagement rings, fine watches, designer jewelry, handbags, etc.

Making her little-girl dreams into her big-business realities spurs Pamela's relentless passions. Whether transforming precious relics of the past into cherished treasures of the present or creating specially designed pieces today as celebrations of tomorrow, Pamela provides gifts from her heart for her customers to share with the people they love.

No wonder Pamela's TSDAR "Front Porch Pin" helped raise over $55,000 for the Texas Governor's Mansion Restoration Fund! No wonder Wright Pawn and Jewelry is a four time BBB Winner of Distinction and a two time Houston Press Best Business! By being true to herself, Pamela's a Houston gem!
